Murphy bed in closed position

Exterior of guest house

Pritchard Island Guest House Seattle, WA

This project started as an effort to refurbish an underutilized guest house on Lake Washington. The result was a sleek retreat for the homeowners. Work included complete interior remodel, replacement of existing windows and redesign of the front elevation to incorporate new sliding glass doors that open up the entire east façade to the lake. An updated kitchen and reconfigured bathroom bring all the comforts of home to the guest house. The design of a Murphy bed allows for overnight accommodations or put it away for a larger gathering on a summer day.
